APPENDIX V.

[Vide answer to starred question No. 1323 asked by Sri K. Aranganathan at the meeting of the Legislative Assembly held on 12th August 1954, page 533 supra.]

Some candidates possessing the Minor Irrigation and Road Construction diploma of the Annamalai University, which is not considered equivalent to the Lower Subordinate diploma of the College of Engineering, Guindy, were appointed as Overseers or Draughtsmen in the Public Works, Highways, and other departments. None of them except those entertained as Overseers in the Highways Department was discharged from service for the reason that the qualification was not recognized for service under the Government.

In the Highways department, during the years 1948–51, owing to the dearth of qualified hands, certain candidates possessing the Annamalai diploma were appointed as overseers against the sanctioned posts of supervisors purely as a stop-gap arrangement. These persons were relieved as and when qualified candidates became available for filling up the posts of supervisors. The holders of the Annamalai diploma were, however, offered posts of draughtsmen in the department. Those who accepted the offer have been appointed on a regular basis and are continuing in service.
